Re: All Telephone Companies Tariff Filings Regarding Reclassification of Pay

Docket No. 97-00409

Dear Director Greer:

Attached is a motion filed by the Tennessee Payphone Owners Association ("TPOA") in the above-captioned proceeding in which you are the Hearing Officer.

TPOA asks that you give this matter your immediate attention so that your ruling, either granting or denying the motion, can be placed before the Authority at its July 11, 2000 conference.

I have faxed a copy of the motion to BellSouth, and would ask that you request that BellSouth respond to this motion within seven (7) days. At that point, if you feel a hearing on the motion is necessary, TPOA asks that you schedule this matter for a brief hearing during the week of July 3, 2000. I would anticipate that the hearing would not last longer than one hour since the issues raised in the motion do not involve any disputed facts.

As shown in the affidavits attached to the motion, the members of TPOA urgently need and deserve rate relief.

Thank you for your prompt response to this request.

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

IN RE: All Telephone Companies Tariff Filings Regarding Reclassification of Pay Telephone Service As Required By Federal Communications Commission (FCC) Docket 96-128

Docket No. 97-00409

MOTION FOR INTERIM RELIEF

The Tennessee Payphone Providers Association ("TPOA") requests an immediate, interim reduction — to $18.90 per month — in the payphone line rates charged by BellSouth Telecommunications, Inc. ("BellSouth"). This interim rate would remain in effect pending the final outcome of this proceeding. Because of the urgent nature of this request, the TPOA asks that the Hearing Officer consider this motion in time to place his recommended decision before the Authority at the July 11, 2000 conference.

DISCUSSION

Three years ago, the Federal Communications Commission directed that incumbent, local exchange carriers such as BellSouth establish cost-based rates for pay telephone service. The FCC declared that those rates must be effective as of April 15, 1997. In response, the Authority opened this proceeding to set pay telephone rates in accordance with the FCC's directions and, by agreement of the parties, declared that the payphone rate, once finally determined, would be "trued up" retroactively to April, 1997.

Today, members of TPOA who operate pay telephones in the BellSouth area are paying, on average, more than $40 per month for each telephone line. That figure includes both the Subscriber Line Charge (SLC) and the Presubscribed Interexchange Carrier Charge (PICC) which TPOA members are required to pay each month in addition to BellSouth's line and usage charges. Based on a recent ruling from the FCC staff, that $40 rate is approximately twice what it should be.

As described in TPOA's letter to you dated March 21, 2000, the FCC's Competitive Pricing Division recently clarified the manner in which cost-based rates for pay telephone lines should be developed. (A copy of the Division's order was attached to the March 21 letter.) First, the Division said pay phone lines are comparable to UNEs and, absent unusual circumstance, should be priced accordingly. Second, the Division said that BellSouth must subtract revenue from the SLC and PICC to avoid "double counting". That adjustment alone will reduce BellSouth's current payphone charges by more than $10 month.¹

If one adjusts BellSouth's current payphone line rate to (1) take into account the SLC and PICC charges (2) set loop, port, switching and billed number screening rates that are consistent with the Authority's UNE docket and (3) compute usage charges based on 600 to 700 calls a month, the end result will be a payphone rate of $18.90 per line, or less.²

² Even that figure is still higher than the final rate the TRA will likely set in this docket. Based on BellSouth's June 9, 2000, filing in docket 97-01262 (the UNE docket), the average cost of a loop is $14.92, a "coin port" is $2.16 and usage charges (based on 650 calls per month) would be $1.81. "Billed number screening" adds another penny for a total rate of $18.90. The end result is still higher than a true, cost-based rate because a payphone loop is shorter, on average, than other loops. Based on results in other states, the actual cost of a payphone loop is about 83% of BellSouth's UNE loop rate.

Based on these calculations, TPOA members expect to receive substantial refunds once the Authority fixes cost-based rates that apply retroactively to April 15, 1997. Those refunds, however, may come too late to keep some members in business or to prevent the elimination of hundreds of marginal payphone locations.

As shown in the attached affidavits, payphone owners are suffering severe economic harm as a result of the unforeseen, three-year delay in fixing cost-based rates. Some are going out of business; others are taking out all but the most profitable payphones. The members of TPOA need immediate, interim relief if they are to continue providing service.

For these reasons, TPOA asks that BellSouth's payphone rate be reduced, effective immediately, to $18.90 per month, pending a final determination of cost-based payphone rates later this year. In the unlikely event that the final rate is higher than $18.90, whatever money the TPOA members owe BellSouth would be more than offset by the excess rates BellSouth has collected since April, 1997.

For more than three years, TPOA has paid BellSouth's unchallenged, unexamined payphone line rates, subject to a retroactive "true-up." The burden of this delay has fallen entirely on TPOA's members. In light of the recent ruling from the FCC, it is now time for both sides to share the risk of any further postponement in arriving at a final payphone line rate.

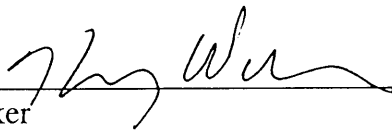

Respectfully submitted,

Henry Walker

Mr. Walker,

Our Corporation has struggled for the past three years to stay in operation. Due to high phone bills, PCCC and Universal charges that are added to each phone bill.

Revenue is down approximately 30% due to 10XXX #'s and 1800 #'s which we are only receiving 50 to 60% of these calls. We have pulled 50 phones in the last year because they are no longer profitable. Several Companies have called wanting to sell their pay phones and their businesses, but due to our own low profits we are not willing to take the chance.

Our expense of providing long distance 1+ service is $1,500.00 per month, again due to PCCC and Universal Charges. ($4.33 PCCC & $.60 Universal Charges Per Line Per Month!)

Sincerely,

Richard L. Kendall

To Whom it May Concern:

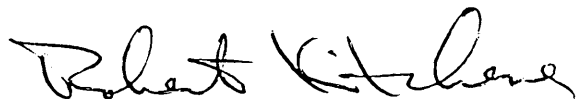

The last three years have been a devastating and disappointing time for our payphone company. Revenues have dropped at least 25 to 30% due to the proliferation of cellphones and prepaid calling cards. Although there are mechanisms in place designed to collect "dial-around compensation" for payphone owners, I estimate that less than half of what we are due comes our way.

As a result, we have pulled many "marginal" phones, and have been very selective in installing any new ones. We have turned down at least 20 locations over the last two years.

We regard the situation as a double-bind, because as revenues are declining, all our overhead and regular costs of doing business (payroll, rent, gas, etc etc) are constantly rising.

We are in desperate need of some kind of cost reduction on the exorbitant line charges that Bellsouth has been charging. We know that other states have seen relief, and we urgently need the same attention in order to stay in business. It is only fair to stipulate that if the actual useage of the payphones is declining, then the line charges should also come down.

We respectfully request that the TRA honor and grant the attached motion for interim relief in order to ensure that the members of the payphone industry stay solvent and are able to continue providing an essential service to the general public.

2. My average usage per phone in BellSouth's area is approximately 414 calls per month. My average BellSouth bill, including EULC and PICC charges is approximately $45.00 per phone.
3. In the past three years the cost of our payphone lines have gone up significantly due to increases in EULC and PICC charges (approximately $6.00 per phone). We are now paying $12.21 per month in these two charges alone. In addition, for a period of 18 months within this same time period, we paid a $1.03 per line per month flex ANI charge. Also in this same period, we have incurred the number portability charge of $.35 per line per month. While costs have gone up, our revenues have decreased due to the popularity of cell phones and calling cards. This has caused our company to go from a growth company to a struggling company. We are adding new phones but phones are being removed which have become unprofitable for the above reasons. We have removed approximately 25 phones the past two years. I believe this is common throughout our industry. A couple of companies have recently sold out and others are looking to do the same.

Since March of 1999 until today, I have disconnected fifty-three (53) payphones which, at one time, were profitable, but because of reduced revenue caused by cellphones and lost long distance to 1010xxx calls and pre-paid calling cards. Adding to this lost revenue was the increase of the PICC charge by BellSouth from $1.25 to $4.31 per payphone. I have five more payphones that have been listed as marginal that will be disconnected in the near future. Instead of a growth company, my business has become a churning company. In other words, I don't buy new payphones; I try to find locations for the ones I have to disconnect.
